

Frontwave Machine - Perishing sun

I got over another night
Waiting for the sun
Embraced by darkness around
Hoping for a peaceful day
Another dawn has come
To lay a bloody hand
All over the land

I see a perishing sun is rising
It's reflected in your eyes
Blessed ignorance is in your smile

Overrunned by a blood-red sky
And it's angry clouds
Driven by the will of hate
Expecting hords of fiends
A further war will come
And lay a shroud
All over our world

I see a perishing sun is rising
It's reflected in your eyes
Blessed ignorance is in your smile

I see a perishing sun is rising
It's reflected in your eyes
Blessed ignorance is in your smile

And I once swore
I'd go through hell
Just to know you're safe
Because the future belongs to the brave
